

Biography

Carol Reilly

Carol Reilly is a Program Specialist where she manages all elements of the Food Systems Leadership Institutes' program. Her other responsibilities are helping to manage the FFAR Fellows leadership development program and working with the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences' Academic Programs office.

Prior to joining the Food Systems Leadership Institute, Carol worked for the 4-H Youth Development Department at North Carolina State University where her roles included coordinating the logistics of the leadership and awards program and events. She has supported the Girls Scouts as an event planner while also guiding the girls in developing their leadership awards and supervising their projects.

Carol is certified in the "Foundations in Design Thinking", "ToP's Facilitation Methods", the "DISC Certification Training", "Change Style Navigator", "Change Style Indicator" and the "Paper Planes" simulation. She has also received the ATD Coaching Certificate.

She has a bachelor's degree in art from Dominican University in River Forest, IL and worked as a graphic artist for nine years generating artwork for slide presentations and printed materials.

In addition to her work at NCSU Carol volunteers her time as a docent giving tours of the collection and special exhibits at the NC Museum of Art. She also volunteers at Washington Elementary tutoring young people to increase their reading skills.

Carol has been married to her husband Greg Hennis for 40 years. They are blessed with three successful and talented daughters.